

“Whom the Son sets free is free indeed”

Did you know that a woodpecker has a tongue that is 4x's as long as it's' beak? Or that a woodpecker has two sets of eyelids? One set of eyelids to protect his eyes and another to keep his eyes in his head because he pecks with so much pressure that his eyes would burst out of his head without that extra eyelid. WOW! Amazing! Every one of Northside's Kindergarten scholars knows that this amazing design did not happen by random chance. No, there had to be an intelligent designer who carefully created woodpeckers with; shock absorbers on their beaks, a wire tail for leverage, sticky glue on the end of his long tongue and even four claw-like toes to maintain stability while Mr. Woodpecker is pounding trees in search of luscious grubs! Your student may be learning an advanced degree in wood pecker anatomy. But one thing he/she is not doing is believing the sad secular argument, that the specialized woodpecker tongue evolved over a million years...or so. And that is in part thanks to Mr. Lanny Johnson – Alpha Omega Ministries – whose specialty is in animal design, creation, dinosaurs and the flood. Mr. Johnson did a wonderful special assembly and our student body was amazed at what creativity our God has used in planning spectacularly fantastic animal designs. Which frankly, are nothing compared to how He made you, Gavin, Molly, Mr. Enns and all of us. Therefore, we celebrate and are grateful for each of you who are a special gift and Northside takes great joy in investing in our next generation.

Speaking of investing, you should have your Fund Raising letters in and now you are ready to make your phone calls, encouraging your friends and relatives to support such a wonderful school. Please parents, help your children go for this 'big time'. Our Helping Hand Serv-A-Thon is the main fund raising function that Northside administrates to provide the difference between tuition and the actual cost of running the school.

A couple of last things: Dads of Great Students – find the big calendar to sign up for your WATCH DOG day at Northside. If you have questions, call the office 763-755-3993.
